Patient Care

Students will gather essential and accurate information about their patients in the context of a compassionate and respectful therapeutic relationship, to provide effective care for health concerns, health maintenance and disease prevention.

Students will use best medical evidence, patient information and patient preferences to support patient care decisions, patient education and counseling.