Molecular Biosciences GSO Goals

Social
- Lunches
- Halloween Party
- Holiday Party

Support
- Student orientation
- Recruitment
- Rutgers Day

Academic
- MBGSO sponsored seminars
- Research Symposium
  - Poster session
  - Research presentations
Events this week

Wed August 29th
3:45pm Life Sciences Auditorium
Scavenger Hunt

Thu August 30th
5:30pm Deans' Conference Room 102, RWJMS Research Game Night

Fri August 31st
1:00pm Waksman Courtyard
Start of Fall Semester BBQ
What is the NeuroConnections Club?

A graduate student organization (GSO) that advances and promotes social and academic interests of students, faculty, and staff, through research focused student-led seminars.

Other events include:

- Ice Cream Socials
- BBQ’s
- Happy Hours
- & Other GSO Collaborations

NeuroConnections Seminar
Every other Tuesday
Lunch Provided!
Join our group on Facebook!
American Society for Microbiology - Rutgers Student Chapter

https://www.facebook.com/groups/asmstudentchapteratrutgers/

Trunk or Treat 2017

RUTGERS GEOLOGY MUSEUM

RUTGERS DAY

BIG CHILL 2017
TEAM PROTON MOTIVE FORCE
• Liaisons between students and faculty.
• Academic Events:
  • Faculty Luncheons
  • Annual BME Symposium
  • STEM Cos (R) Symposium
  • Special Seminars
• Social Events:
  • BBQ
  • Movie Nights
  • Themed Events
  • Halloween and Christmas Party
WHAT WE’VE BEEN WRITING ABOUT

Promoting the Art of Communicating Science to Non-scientists

Meet the blogger: Vinam Puri

Where did all the women go? The gender gap in publishing and beyond

Where are they Now? – Interview with Stephanie Veerasammy

Enter the matrix: Scientist self-assessments that make sense!
Nutritional Sciences GSO

Endocrinology & Animal Biosciences GSO

Welcome Back Events!!

Welcome BBQ
@ Log Cabin
Rutgers Gardens!!
9/20/18
5:30pm

Welcome Picnic
@ Bartlett Hall
8/28/18
12:30pm

Rutgers Day (Last Saturday of April)

BBQ Sale!

Nutrition Myth busters!
12th Nutrition, Endocrinology and Food Science Conference (NEFS)

- 3 Keynote speakers and 3 Grad Student Speakers
- Poster Presentations
- Submit Abstracts!!

When: April 2019, Look out for Dr. Alder’s Email!
Where: Cook Student Center
Mark your Calendars…..

11th Pioneers in Endocrinology Seminar

Endocrinology of Women’s Health

When: Mon, Sept 17, 2018; 10 -12 noon
Where: Busch Student Center

“Fetal-Maternal Cross Talk in Timing of Birth”
by Carole Mendelson, PhD, U Texas SW Med Center

“Osteoporosis 2018: Diagnosis and Challenges”
by Ethel S. Siris, MD, Columbia U Med Center

Free for students who register by 9/10/18. Details at endocrine.rutgers.edu
Who are we?
Graduate student organization for the Rutgers Exposure Science program

What do we do?
Social events (movie nights with free food!)
Academic events (eg. Guest speakers, conference prep)
Discuss student issues

For more information, contact nirmala.thomas@rutgers.edu
Rutgers Toxicology

• Rutgers Association of Graduate Students (RATS)
  – Professional and social organization of JGPT students

• Community Outreach
  – THED
  – SURF Program

• Events
  – Industrial Toxicology Career Panel
  – JGPT Poster Session
  – Halloween/Holiday Parties
  – Rutgers Day
  – Welcome Back BBQ!!
    • Date: September 14th
    • Time: 12pm
    • Location: Busch Campus (In front of EOHSI/Woody’s Café)
    • Swing by for burgers and hotdogs!
SEEDING LABS- RUTGERS UNIVERSITY CHAPTER

Our Mission: Help talented scientists in developing countries conduct life-changing research.

Community Outreach
- Blood Drive
- STEM CO Symposium at Rutgers

Fundraiser/Social Events
- Happy Hours
- Spring BBQ
- Volleyball Tournament
- Bake Sale

Monthly Meetings
- September 5th
- 5:30PM, Research Tower

Talent is Everywhere ... Resources Are Not
SACNAS is a national organization dedicated to promoting the success of students from diverse backgrounds in attaining advanced degrees, careers, and positions of leadership in STEM.

Our yearly events include:

- National Diversity in STEM Conference
- STEMcosR
- Academic and professional workshops
- Faculty luncheons
- Rutgers Observatory visits
- Rutgers Day
- Joint networking and social events with other GSOs and SACNAS Chapters