Adverse Childhood Experiences Greater New Brunswick And Middlesex County

What are Adverse Childhood Experiences?

Adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) are potentially traumatic experiences in a person’s life occurring before the age of 18 that can have negative, lasting effects on health and well-being.

These experiences include:

- physical abuse
- emotional abuse
- sexual abuse
- neglect

Neglect also occurs when a parent or caregiver fails to provide proper supervision for a child or adequate food, clothing, shelter, education, or medical care although financially able or assisted to do so. To learn more

Adverse Childhood Experiences have been linked to:

- Risky health behaviors
- Chronic health conditions
- Low life potential
- Early death

ACEs can have lasting effects on...

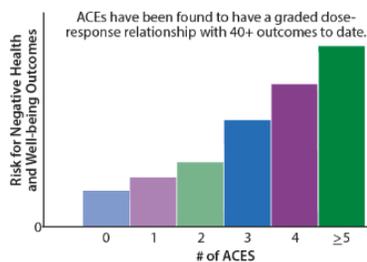

Health (obesity, diabetes, depression, suicide attempts, STDs, heart disease, cancer, stroke, COPD, broken bones)

Behaviors (smoking, alcoholism, drug use)

Life Potential (graduation rates, academic achievement, lost time from work)

*This pattern holds for the 40+ outcomes, but the exact risk values vary depending on the outcome.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC)

ACEs Are Common!

About 61% of adults surveyed across 25 states reported that they had experienced at least one type of ACE, and nearly 1 in 6 reported they had experienced four or more types of ACEs.

Preventing ACEs could potentially reduce a large number of health conditions.

For example, up to 1.9 million cases of heart disease and 21 million cases of depression could have been potentially avoided by preventing ACEs.

Some children are at greater risk than others.

Women and several racial/ethnic minority groups were at greater risk for having experienced 4 or more types of ACEs.

ACEs are costly.

The economic and social costs to families, communities, and society totals hundreds of billions of dollars each year.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY PHONE: 911

ACEs Can Be Prevented

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention there are evidence-based strategies that can prevent ACEs from happening and / or lessen the harms of ACEs.

Stress and Anxiety During Challenging Times

Greater New Brunswick and Middlesex County

The recent Coronavirus Pandemic has left many people with feelings of stress and anxiety. Fear and anxiety about a disease can be overwhelming and cause strong emotions in adults and children.

Stress

Stress during an infectious disease outbreak can include:

- Fear and worry about your health and the health of your family.
- Changes in sleep or eating patterns.
- Difficulty sleeping or concentrating.
- Worsening of chronic health problems.
- Worsening of mental health conditions.
- Increased use of alcohol, tobacco, or other drugs.

Stress can affect our bodies in different ways, including:

- Chest tightness and feeling like you can't breathe
- Muscle tension, aches, and pains,
- Difficulty sleeping
- Restlessness and an inability to relax
- Heart palpitations
- Digestive issues

Some people cope with stress more effectively than others. It's important to know your limits when it comes to stress. Chronic stress can cause both physical and mental harm.

Anxiety

Fear and anxiety are a normal part of life. Anxiety can be useful because it can make you more alert or careful. This type of anxiety usually ends soon after a person is out of the situation that caused it. People who frequently have intense, excessive and persistent worry and fear about everyday situations have anxiety disorders, which can impact their life. If someone has frequent anxiety should seek advice from their doctor.

Healthy Ways of Coping with Stress and Anxiety

- Take care of yourself and your family.
 - Eat healthy, well-balanced meals, if possible
 - Exercise on a regular basis – take a walk or kick around a ball
 - Get plenty of sleep
 - Give yourself a break if you feel stressed out
- Talk to others. Share your problems and how you are feeling and coping with a parent, friend, counselor, doctor, or pastor.
- Unwind and do something you enjoy (for example, doing hobbies, playing games, or reading).
- Keep to a schedule especially if you are working from home.
- Communicate regularly with extended family members.
- Avoid drugs and alcohol. These may seem to help, but they can create additional problems and increase the stress you are already feeling.
- Take a break from listening or watching the news including social media.

Recognize when you need more help. If problems continue seek help from your doctor or one of the help lines listed on the next page.

Suicide Prevention Resource Guide Greater New Brunswick and Middlesex County

Risk Factors

Research has found that 46% of people who die by suicide had a known mental health condition. Other risks are:

- A family history of suicide
- Substance abuse. Drugs can create mental highs and lows that worsen suicidal thoughts.
- Intoxication. More than a third of the people who die from suicide are under the influence of alcohol at the time of death.
- Access to firearms
- A serious or chronic medical illness
- Gender. Although more women than men attempt suicide, men are nearly 4 times more likely to die by suicide.
- A history of trauma or abuse
- Prolonged stress/ recent tragedy or loss

Teen Depression Guide for Adolescents, Families, and Friends Greater New Brunswick and Middlesex County

Depression

Depression may be described as feeling sad, blue, unhappy, miserable, or down in the dumps. Most of us feel this way at one time or another for short periods. Clinical depression is a mood disorder in which feelings of sadness, loss, anger, or frustration interfere with everyday life.

Young People Who Might be at Risk for Depression

- Mood disorders run in the family.
- Experience a stressful event (death in the family, divorcing parents, bullying, a breakup with a boyfriend or girlfriend, or failing in school).
- Have low self-esteem or are very critical of themselves.
- Have trouble being social.
- Have learning disabilities.
- Have a chronic illness.
- There are family problems.

Common Symptoms of Depression

- Frequent irritability with sudden bursts of anger.
- More sensitive to criticism.
- Complaints of headaches, stomach aches or other body problems and may go to the nurse's office a lot.
- Withdrawal from people like parents or some friends.
- Not enjoying activities, they usually like.
- Feeling tired for much of the day.
- Feeling sad, anxious or empty (feel nothing) most of the time.
- Grades are dropping.
- Feeling restless or have trouble sitting still.
- Trouble concentrating, remembering information, or making decisions.
- Thinking about dying or suicide or tries to harm themselves.

How to Get Help

- Talk to a trusted adult, such as a parent or guardian, teacher, or a school counselor. If not comfortable talking to an adult, talk to a trusted friend. If not sure where to turn, can use TXT 4 HELP Interactive (www.nationalsafeplace.org/txt-4-help), which allows you to text live with a mental health professional.
- Make an appointment with your doctor for an evaluation. Your doctor can make sure you don't have a physical illness that may be affecting your mental health or can speak to you about seeing a mental health professional.

How Is Depression Treated?

Depression is usually treated with psychotherapy, medication, or a combination of the two.

Psychotherapy (sometimes called "talk therapy") is a term for treatment techniques that can help you identify and manage troubling emotions, thoughts, and behavior.

What Else Can I Do to Manage Depression?

Be patient and know that treatment takes time to work. In the meantime, you can:

- Stay active and exercise, even if it's just going for a walk.
- Try to keep a regular sleep schedule.
- Spend time with friends and family.
- Break down school or work tasks into smaller ones and organize them in order of what needs to get done first. Then, do what you can.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY PHONE: 911

How to Help Someone Who Might Be Depressed

If you think a friend might have depression, first help him or her talk to a trusted adult who can connect your friend to a health professional. You can also:

- Be supportive, patient, and encouraging, even if you don't fully understand what's going on.
- Invite your friend to activities, social events, or just to hang out.
- Remind your friend that getting help is important and that with time and treatment, he or she will feel better.
- Never ignore comments about death and suicide, even if it seems like a joke or overdramatic. Talking about suicide is not just a bid for attention but should be taken seriously.
- Talk to a trusted adult such as a parent, teacher or older sibling as soon as you can.

Bullying and Cyberbullying

Bullying is unwanted, aggressive behavior among school aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behavior is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Both kids who are bullied and who bully others may have serious, lasting problems. In order to be considered bullying, the behavior must be aggressive, include an imbalance of power, and be repeated. There are three types of bullying: verbal (such as, name calling or teasing); social (such as, spreading rumors about someone or embarrassing them in public); and physical (for example, hitting or kicking or taking or breaking someone’s things).

Cyberbullying is bullying that takes place over digital devices like cell phones, computers, and tablets. Cyberbullying can occur through SMS, Text, and apps, or online in social media, forums, or gaming where people can view, participate in, or share content. Cyberbullying has concerns because it can be persistent, permanent, or hard to notice. Some cyberbullying crosses the line into unlawful or criminal behavior.
