Overall Educational Goal of Elective

The goal of Must See TV, is to enhance students' knowledge of psychiatry by discussing selected TV shows through the lens of a psychiatrist.

Objectives

By participation in our elective, the following core competencies will be addressed:

- I. Patient care: Participating students will appreciate the use of techniques which foster effective communication, including the importance of family dynamics, and interacting effectively with others.
- II. Medical knowledge: Participating students will enhance their knowledge in the field of psychiatry.
- III. Practice-based learning and improvement: Participating students will demonstrate self-directed learning by preparing for the interactive didactic.
- IV. Interpersonal and communication skills: Participating students will appreciate interpersonal and communication skills modeled in TV shows as well as demonstrate their ability to work effectively as a group audience via social media.
- V. Professionalism: Participating students will engage in truthful interaction with peers, faculty and staff, and will demonstrate preparedness for meetings (TV sessions), and will demonstrate attitudes and behaviors which convey respect for other students and faculty.
- VI. Systems-based Practice: Participating students will address such core competencies as the use of effective communication strategies and participating effectively as a group audience.

Brief Description of Activities

This course will run once per week from September – May. Students will watch the selected TV show episode via a scheduled Zoom session, while participating in the live discussion via Twitter. Students will follow the hashtag designated for the assigned show, thus creating a unique experience of watching television with real-time analyses by psychiatrists. Students will need to have a Twitter account.

Method of Student Evaluation:

Medical students are expected to log into each weekly Zoom session and be prepared to contribute to the live audience participation via Twitter. Their attendance will be monitored on Twitter by the course director. Students are expected to meet the university's professionalism standards (numeral V above).
